

What is a Compliance Inspection?

A Compliance Inspection is a development permit issued to enable one inspection on one property.

A Compliance Inspection does NOT authorize work—it is an inspection to determine whether the project meets all applicable building codes and zoning ordinances. The inspection will result in a Pass or Fail. In the case of Fire Damage, a filed report is prepared.

There are FIVE types of Compliance Inspections

1. Final Inspection
2. Fire Damage
3. Code Compliance
4. Group Home
5. Move On Structures

1 Final Inspection

This is a one-time inspection for a Final Building Inspection OR a Final Drainage Inspection. If both are necessary, then two Compliance Inspection permits are required.

This is used when a permit had been previously ISSUED, but has since EXPIRED.

All inspections must have been successfully completed EXCEPT the final.

The project MUST have been built according to the approved plans; otherwise, the inspection will FAIL and the submittal process may have to begin anew.

2 Fire Damage

An inspection to determine the extent of the fire damage and a field report is prepared.

3 Group Home

An inspection to ensure all requirements are met for occupancy as a group home with more than 5 occupants. A site plan, floor plan and Land Use Certificate must be submitted for review. This permit is NOT issued over the Counter.

4 Code Compliance

An inspection to determine compliance with all county building codes.

5 Move On Structure

An inspection to ensure an existing structure intended to be moved into the County jurisdiction meets all structural requirements.
